FAIR DILLARD

Fair Dillard,
 Gleaming white and spacious green,
 We love thy every blade and tree;
 We love thy breathless days, thy nights serene.
 Thy halls where men are men and free
 Arise, O sons and daughters, hail thy queen
 And pledge for aye thy loyalty.

Fair Dillard,
 Flaming love and learning's light
 Teach us each day, each passing hour
 A deepening love for beauty, truth, and right
 Source of all nobleness and pow'r.
 And through the joyous days, the dreaded night,
 Forever guide, Alma Mater!
 Forever guide, Alma Mater!

Live in New Orleans

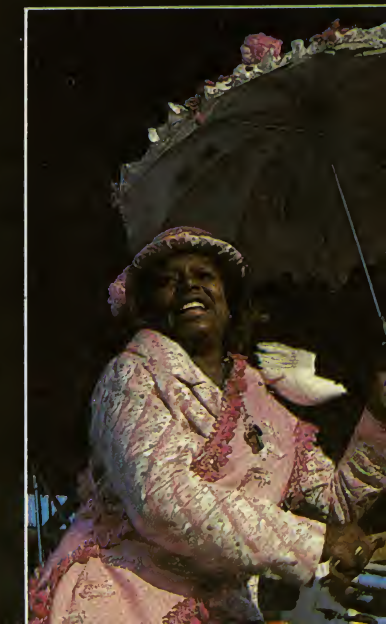

THE CABILDO LOUISIANA STATE MUSEUM

JAZZ FESTIVAL:

a time to make music, food and fun. Just another party? No way. The New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival rages for two consecutive weekends in mid-April with contemporary jazz, gospel, rhythm and blues, folk, Cajun, country-western and Afro-Caribbean tunes. Brass bands blare from all over the grounds, marching in rhythmic cadence past booths offering food, solace and local arts and crafts.

"Jam sessions" the likes of which you may never encounter again are staged spontaneously from 10 different stages. The mood is serious, celebrative, fun, creative. No other place or time will offer so many styles and so many people (over 200,000 last year) gathered together in one place to experience something so uniquely American.

DILLARD

Dr. Samuel DuBois Cook, a man with high ideals and the lofty goals, is responsible for the distinguished reputation that Dillard University holds in the educational community today. Dr. Cook has set standards of academic excellence for all Dillard students. A scholar himself, Dr. Cook believes that continual striving for excellence in education and personal achievement builds character and strength, essentials for succeeding in today's hectic world.

Dr. Cook is an administrator, an educator, a scholar and a family man. An extraordinary man, Dr. Cook has given of himself in many ways. Besides maintaining an atmosphere of academic excellence, he has exhibited outstanding managerial skills.

Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society is a general Honor Society which is open to both junior and senior men and women from a wide variety of academic disciplines. It was admitted to membership in the association of College Honor Society's in 1952, and is listed annually in Baird's Manual, Fraternity Month, and World Almanac.

It was founded in Nashville, Tennessee by representatives of six colleges which had already established local honor societies. The first college meeting, called by the founder, Dr. George W. Gore, Jr., was held in November, 1937, and hosted by Phi Beta Tau Chapter at Tennessee A & I State College.

In its process of growth and development, Alpha Kappa Mu has kept pace with the evolution of our social order. Many notable scholars have gone from its rank to achieve eminence in the many facets of life that are important to progress. The dynamic leadership, which has steered the organization over the past third of a century has been influential in helping to raise the academic standards on many college campuses.

The group was organized in September, 1976. It has grown from 3 members to 20 members regularly attending. During meetings, of course, the Bible is discussed, not only by chapter, but specific points that have puzzled some of the members. Reverend Leslie P. Norris is the advisor, and the president and vice-president are Benjamin Lange and Wanda Tabb.

Yolanda Lang, Luevern Singleton, Arnold Brown, Delores

The Baptist Student Union has been a great movement of Christian students on most of the historically black campuses throughout the South and Midwest. The term "movement of Christian students" is used simply because in many cases the Baptist Student Union organization on the campus includes students who are non-Baptist. But they are dedicated to the campus in making Christianity relevant on the college campus.

Beta Beta Beta

Beta Beta Beta is national Honor Society for Students of the Biological Sciences. The Society was founded in 1922. The Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Beta Beta was founded in 1973.

It's purpose is to encourage scholarly attainment in this field of learning by reserving its active membership for those who achieve superior academic records and who indicate special aptitude for and major interest in the life sciences. It also cultivates intellectual interest in the natural sciences and promotes a better appreciation of the value of biological study, and thus welcomes into association all those students who are interested in biology.

Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority was founded October 10, 1952 in New York City. It all began when three groups of women, nearly identical in their service projects, and ideas, devoted their time to devising a national organization that would provide service to all mankind.

Delta Phi Chapter originated on February 24, 1974. From a line of twenty-five young women, Alpha Eternal, until the present Delta Phi has worked untiringly with the purpose of assembling college and university women in the spirit of service to humanity.

EDITOR'S

P As has been tradition, and shall continue to be, the last page is reserved for the Message From The Editor.

A *****

G As editor of your 1981-82 yearbook, I was extremely happy to have been chosen to take on the responsibility to complete a yearbook that was two years overdue for no excusable reason.

E When I accepted this position I had no idea of the pressures that would be placed on me. The morale from students, about the yearbook was at an ultimate low. No one wanted to take pictures because they felt it was a waste of time. Could anyone blame them? So on top of putting two yearbooks together, I had to raise the student (and sometimes faculty) morale. I had to put this yearbook together with a limited number of pictures and an extremely limited budget.

There are many ideas and memories that were tried to be portrayed in these many pages. I wanted this book to reflect this year at Dillard University so exactly that years from now a student could go back in time as though they were really there again. I hoped to capture the love and friendship, all the joy and disappointments, the laughs, the tears, the frustrations, and all the smiles that are unique to Dillard. A good yearbook should be cherished like a time capsule, another way to take a trip down memory lane; something to be kept forever, to be opened now and then to remember what it was like "way back when"; something that should be kept and appreciated for many years. As many editors before me that was my wish—for this yearbook to be a treasure, a permanent record of a special period to you—the year of 1981-82.

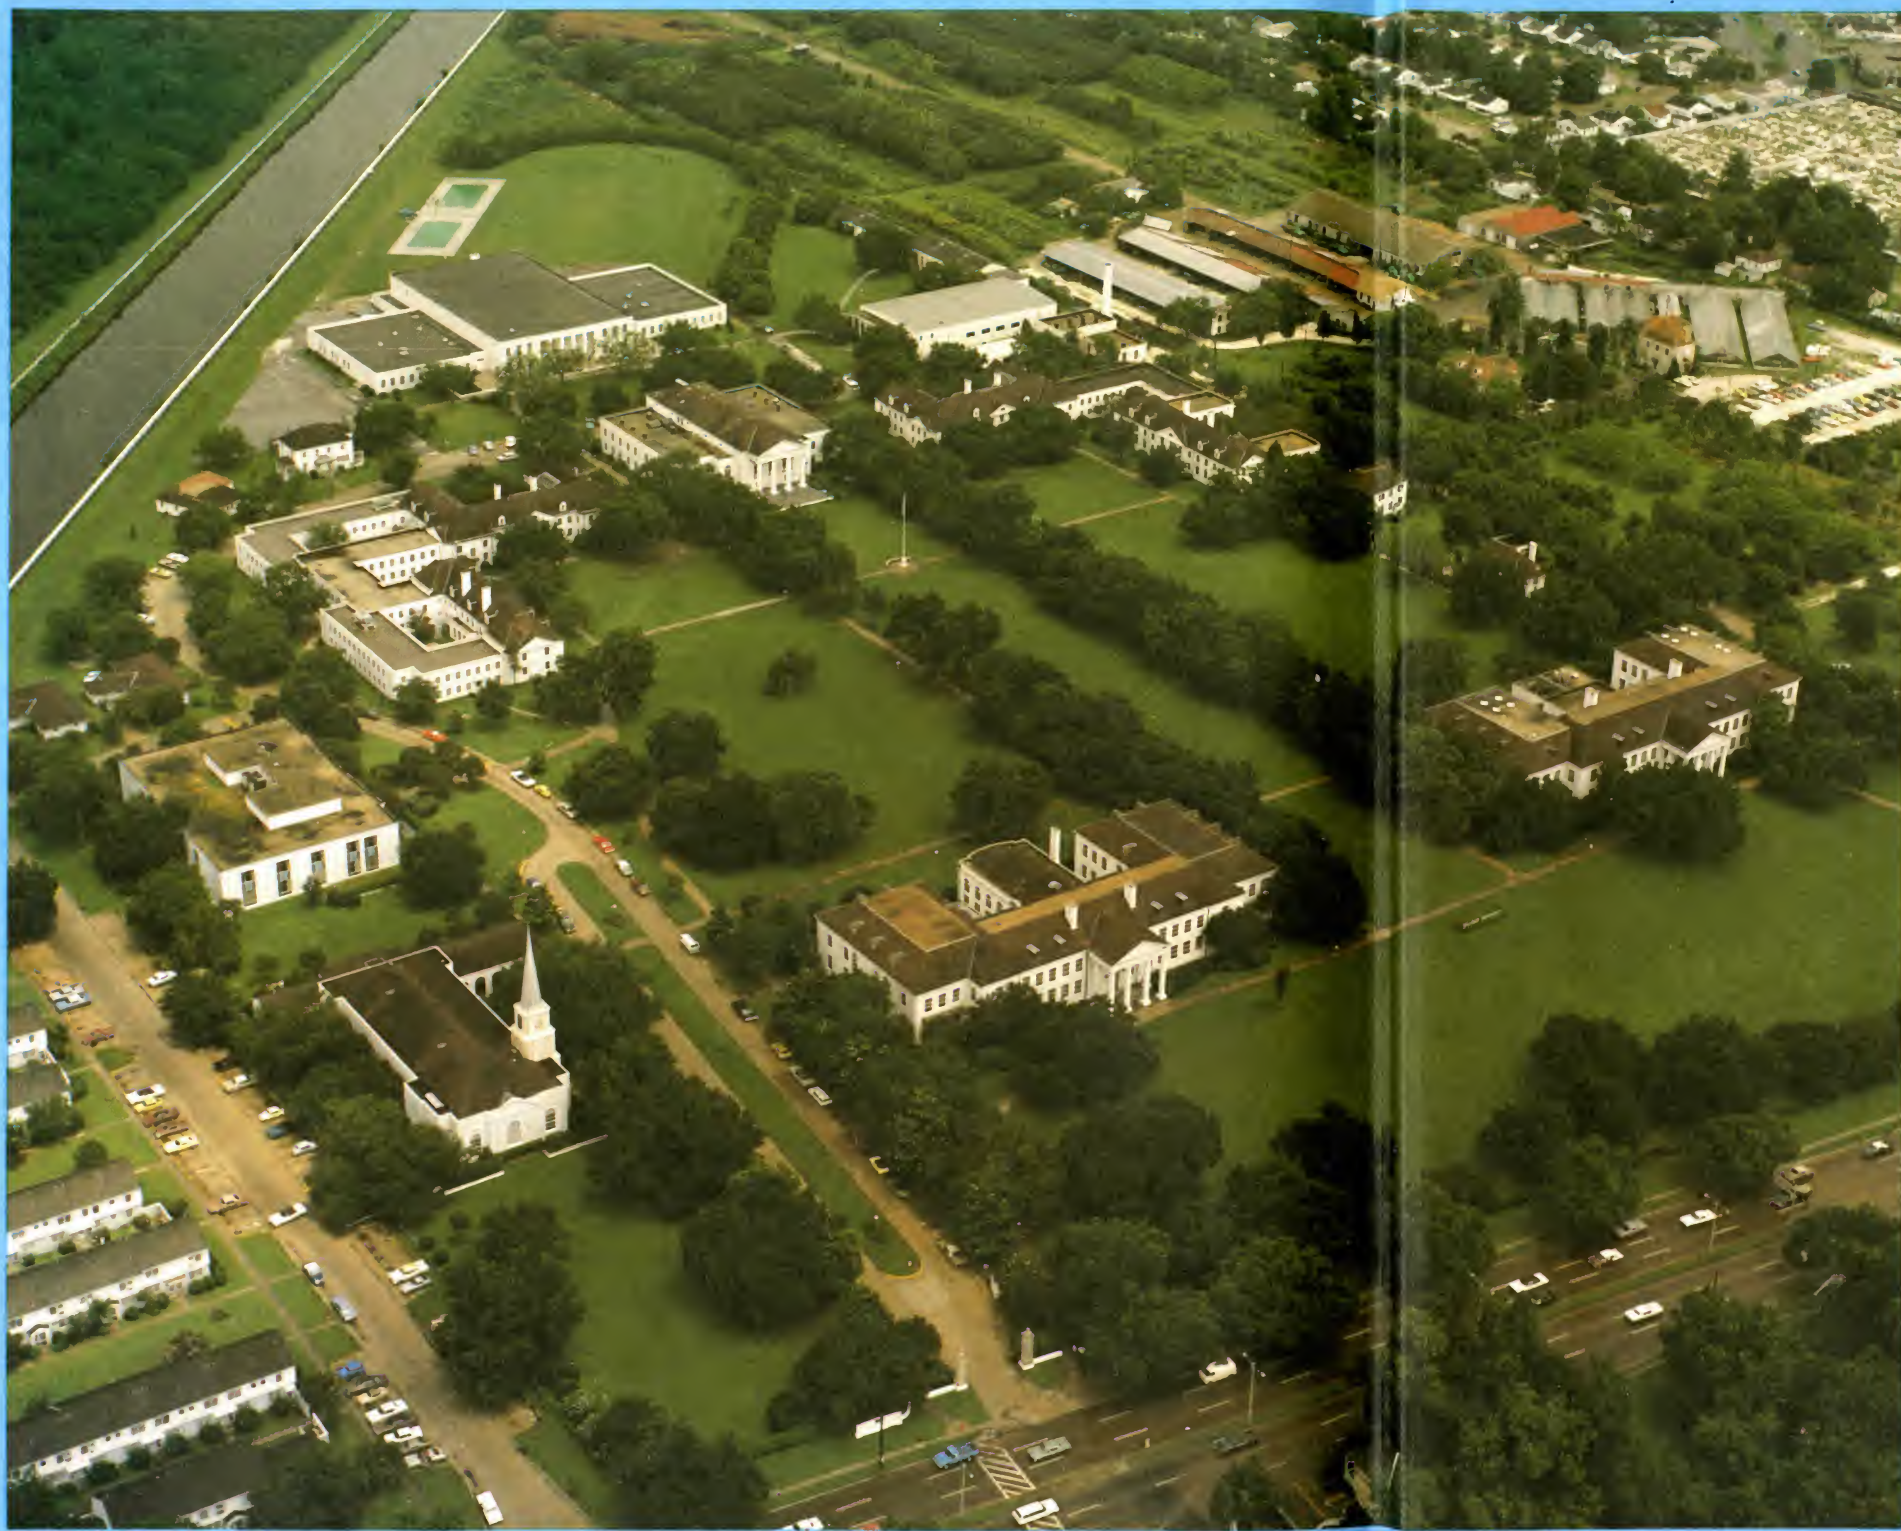

There are many people I wish to thank because without them there still wouldn't be a book. First and foremost is my roommate Stephanie M. Freeman. She put up with my mess in the room over all these months and without a word of complaint. I can only guess she knew what I was going through and sympathized with me. To that I give her all my thanks! Also I must thank Mr. Neustadter and Mrs. Broussard for all their help and faith in me. Mr. N. I told you I wouldn't let you down! President Cook I thank you for also having faith in me by choosing me as the editor. Mr. Provost, I deeply appreciate all the help you gave and for the many trips to New Orleans (many on very short notice), my hat goes off to you. A very special thanks goes to Mr. Curt Cox and all the people at Inter-Collegiate Press. You gave me so much help, had so much patience with my inexperience and made the staff's visit to ICP so enjoyable. You helped me get this book together after all these years and I want you to know how much I appreciate it. Lastly and most importantly I want to thank Armond McClain and Keith Miller, my staff. I may have been editor but this book would never have materialized without the two of you. Keith, you must be a magician to have found pictures of everything from so long ago, you are truly amazing. Armond, you must have had ESP because you knew what to do before I had to tell you. You spent all your free time helping put this book together, I only hope your girlfriend can forgive me! I hope the students appreciate the help of these students.

To the students I want to say never sit back and accept not having a yearbook, always fight for your yearbook. As editor I know there are very few reasons for not having a yearbook.

CONGRATULATIONS Class of 1982, and best of luck to all returning students.

—Scheherazade F. Angelety

We love thy every blade and tree;
We love thy breathless days, thy nights serene.
Thy halls where men are men and free,
Arise, O sons and daughters, hail thy queen
And pledge for aye thy loyalty.

Fair Dillard,
Flaming love and learning's light
Teach us each day, each passing hour
A deep'ning love for beauty, truth, and right
Source of all nobleness and pow'r.
And through the joyous days, the dreaded night
Forever guide, Alma Mater!
Forever guide, Alma Mater!
